Dear Parent/Carer

Sixth Form Home Study

In order to facilitate social distancing in the Sixth Form study area students in Years 12 and 13 will be expected to study at home for the majority of their non-contact hours.

Exceptions to this will be students who live too far away from school to return home and those whose home environment does not allow purposeful study. We have identified a small group of Year 13 students whose teachers have identified them as a cause for concern due to progress during lockdown. These students will not be granted home study and must work in M9 during non-contact time. This will be reviewed at the end of the first half-term. We will be speaking with these students on their induction day and emailing parents to inform them.

A Google Form questionnaire will be completed by students on their induction day in order for us to identify those students who cannot return home during the school day.

Some students in Year 13 may be required to attend departmental intervention at the end of the school day in order to support their progress towards their A Level exams. Students will be notified of this by class teachers.

We would ask that parents support us in helping students to establish a good working routine at home as many did during lockdown.

Yours faithfully
