Dear Parent/Carer

Year 11 Careers Interviews

Careers advice is an important part of the information and guidance that students receive throughout their school life and the guidance programme that we offer is wide, varied and designed to meet the specific needs of pupils at different stages. Students are helped in developing the skills to understand themselves, investigate opportunities and plan for transition so they are able to make well informed and realistic decisions about what they want to do with their life.

Year 11 is a critical stage where decisions about the future start to be made and therefore we would like to give all students the opportunity to discuss the various options available after Year 11 as well as any career ideas with either myself or one of our YC Herts Personal Advisors who are Hilary Stephens and Emma Readman. These interviews will take place throughout the Autumn and Spring terms and will be the time for your son or daughter to have help with choosing the right path for them. They will be told about all the options open to them such as 6th form, college and apprenticeships and also have information about university courses if this is something they might be interested in doing in the future.

Some students have already spoken to YC Herts, either virtually or in person, earlier in the year but plans do change and we hope these interviews will prove to be an invaluable part of the students' decision making process and will assist in making this transition stage easier.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours faithfully
